Summertime Blouses
AND
Separate Skirts

ATTRACTIVE BLOUSES

They are uncommonly smart, fashioned of beautiful soft Batiste, Voiles, Georgette, Tulle and Figured Messaline and Taffeta—many are embroidered and have fancy trimmings, while others content themselves with panel collars and frills.

Figured Taffeta and Messaline Over-Blouses are $5.98.
Fine Voile Over-Blouses are $4.69 to $16.50
Georgette Over-Blouses are $5.98 to $19.00

SEPARATE SKIRTS

The skirts rather than be partial favor broadcast among Cottons, Silks and Woolens, all the three types are surprisingly well represented here. For trimming the skirts of cottons, resort to buttons, fancy pockets and tucks. The silk models are engagingly simple but attractive, and the woolen skirts seemingly cannot exist without plaits. The silk skirts, while they represent the leading materials for summer, they are all specially priced.

Another Main street business block changed hands Friday when the Kimbel block, Nos. 350-56 Main street, was sold by Myron H. Bridgman of Hartford to Alphonse L. Gelinas of Willimantic. The block, a three-story brick structure, was built in 1890 by the late Stephen H. Kimbel and at that time was situated outside of the business section of the city. Mr. Kimbel's foresight was later demonstrated and today the block stands in the business section. The first motion picture house in this city was located in that block. Later Harry Gale, owner of the theatre, moved to the Jordan block. In 1920 the theatre was moved to the building is now occupied by business houses on the ground floor, while the two upper stories are apartments.

THE LURE OF THE "EASY" is what gets too many of our young people nowadays. Is it worth while to have an "easy" time for a few short months while you are a student of shorthand and then have ROUGH SLEDDING the rest of your short-hand lifetime? Do the EASY systems of shorthand pay—the position—LESS, the shade—LESS, the MINUS systems? Let us see. Who are the successful shorthand writers of the land, the ones that write REAL SHORTHAND and so have easy times AS PRACTITIONERS of the art of shorthand?

77.3 per cent. of the shorthand clerks of the National Government write PITMANIC PHONOGRAPHY.

82.6 per cent. of the official shorthand reporters of Indiana write PITMANIC PHONOGRAPHY.

*91.2 per cent. of the official shorthand reporters of the whole United States write PITMANIC PHONOGRAPHY.

98 per cent. of the official shorthand reporters of the State of New York write PITMANIC PHONOGRAPHY.

Do you suppose these men and women were looking for an EASY system when they took up the study of shorthand? Or did they bone right down to hard work and master thoroughly a system that was worth while?

KING EDWARD VII. COMMEMORATING KILTIES
During the triumphant world tour of the Kilties hand their appearance was twice requested at the Royal Palace by King Edward.

A glance at their experiences while on this world encircling trip will convince one that this attraction, scheduled for the fourth day of the coming Chautauque, is a real band.

Starting at Belleville, Canada (their home) in May, 1908, they were gone two years and three months, returning in August, 1910. During the tour they traveled over 50,000 miles, visited twenty different countries and spent 115 days at sea.

The Kilties have enjoyed some famous engagements. They played at the Crystal Palace, London, where the attendance was 170,000 paid admissions in one day. At Willow Grove they played for 150,000 people in one day. At Madison Square Garden, New York, they were over $7,000 for one day. For the feature picture Walter Miller, Paul Panzer, Edna Mason is seen in "Mysterious Mr. Browning" on Sunday. The secrets of the underworld are unfolded in the telling of the story. The Mysterious Mr. Browning, which comes to the Strand theatre Sunday, Walter Miller, who plays dual part, that of a millionaire bank president and also Red Harrigan, of the underworld, shows that he has studied his characters well.

Sis Hampton portrays a role that is new to her, but that is destined to increase her popularity with motion picture fans. Paul Panzer supports the star and has an important part. The story is unique as well as a mystery. It revolves about the million-dollar bank president, who seeks his long-lost brother. Because of their earlier life, he suspects his brother will be found in the underworld, and goes there, disguised as Red Harrigan. Because of his prowling about Harrigan is suspected by the police, and because they cannot get any evidence they seek to "frame" him. It is all turned out happily in the end, however, and the mystery is cleared up.

Fatty Arbuckle will be shown in a two reel reel-reel comedy. Screened are the bright bits from newspaper wits, and William Duncan in The Silent Avenger will also be included in this big Sunday show. The Strand has a big picture programme for today. Be sure to come early.

BREED THEATRE.
The tall redwood forests around Santa Cruz, Cal., formed the setting for the big woods scene in "Call Me Jim," the new Gevrey picture starring Will Rogers which will appear at the Breed theatre today. Little Jimmie Rogers, aged 4, has a prominent part in the picture. The tiny tot, alone in the great forest, makes a hand-to-hand struggle of his Dad who is ill. The big woods forms an ideal setting for the cabin of Jim and for the subsequent scenes in which the fugitive Paul hides and is pursued by Jim. The picture is adapted from J. G. Holland's book, Seven Oaks, and may be seen at the Breed theatre today. Harry Morley will also be seen in The Birth of a Soul, a picture that throbs with love and a tremendous sacrifice, and the Pathe News completes the bill. Four shows today, at 1:30, 3, 6:15 and 8:15.

At the Breed Sunday Monday and Tuesday.
The Breed will offer as its feature attraction Sunday, Monday and Tuesday Screen-Classics Inc., picturization of The Best of Luck. This is one of the photoplay sensations of the season.

The Best of Luck is a picturization of the great Drury Lane melodrama by Cecil Raleigh and Henry Hamilton as produced at a hand-to-hand playhouse by Arthur Collins. It is packed with thrills, surprises, startling effects, mystery and a compelling love interest. Screen Classics Inc. has made it into a lavish production enacted by an all star cast of screen players. These notable artists are headed by Kathryn Adams as Leslie Macleod, the intrepid heroine; Jack Hall, the handsome and talented leading man; Little Leslie as the adventures, Lady Westmore, and Fred Malatesta as General Lansana, the villain.

A wonderful photographic representation of a hand-to-hand battle on the ocean's bed; the thrilling pursuit of a woman on a motorcycle, and the treasure-hunt in a submarine, are some of the startling dramatic scenes embodied in the action of this wonderful drama.

The Pathe News, a Carter Dehaven comedy and Topics of the Day make up the remainder of the bill.
